

Anthony Storer – Biography

Tony Storer was born in Newcastle upon Tyne, in England. He moved to Canada in 1974 where he has worked as a registered nurse in a variety of settings. He is married with three grown children.

Tony's interest in the arts originated when he was young. As a teenager he enjoyed making 8mm films, and later on was the lead singer in a band.

His interest in photography and writing have threaded throughout his life and he has used these interests to enhance his professional life creating slide-tape presentations, developing newsletters, and developing and maintaining web sites for a number of groups and organizations.

He began writing creative fiction in his late twenties and further expanded his interest in photography, exploring photographic impressionism as well as pure documentary formats.

While his photography has remained focused on the natural world, his writing has drawn upon his interest in human behaviour and his experiences working in the mental health field.

A selection of Tony's photographs can be found online at <http://www.tonysweb.ca/>

(Photographs can be purchased unframed for $25.00)

Creative Fiction by Tony Storer

The Man Who Stopped People's Hearts	novella	S
Inside and Outside	short story selection	S
Letters From Home	humour	X
Necessary Violence	science fiction (under construction)
Scribblings	poetry	S
The Collected works of Jive Bear	poetry	X

X Can be read online at <http://www.tonysweb.ca/>

S A sample of these works can be found online at <http://www.tonysweb.ca/>

anthonystorer@ns.sympatico.ca